

Both Sides the Tweed

1. What's the spring breathing jasmine and rose, _ what's the summer with all its gay train, or the splendour of autumn to those who've bartered their free-dom for gain? Ref. Let the love of our land's sacred rights to the love of our people suc - ceed. Let friendship and hon-our u - nite and flou-rish on both sides the Tweed.

2. No sweetness the senses can cheer which corruption and bribery bind.

No brightness that gloom can e'er clear, for honour's the sum of the mind.

3. Let virtue distinguish the brave, place riches in lowest degree.

Think them poorest who can be a slave them richest who dare to be free.
